the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are employed in the public sector has increased by 1.5 million, from 2.5 million in 1980 to 4 million in 1995. The public sector has also become an important employer of women, with 60% of public sector employees being women in 1995.

There are a number of reasons why the public sector has become an important employer of women. One reason is that the public sector has a high proportion of women in the workforce. This is due to a number of factors, including the fact that women are more likely than men to work in the public sector, and the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of women in the workforce.

Another reason why the public sector has become an important employer of women is that it provides a number of benefits that are attractive to women. These benefits include a high level of job security, a high level of pay, and a high level of social security. These benefits are all factors that are likely to attract women to the public sector.

There are also a number of other factors that have contributed to the growth of the public sector as an employer of women. These factors include the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of women in the workforce, and the fact that the public sector has a high proportion of women in the workforce.

What Every Trade Card Shows You

- Asset Name & Direction: e.g., NQ ▲ LONG (Buy) or EUR/USD ▼ SHORT (Sell).
- Entry Zone: The exact price range where you should place your limit entry order.
- Stop Loss (SL): The price level that protects your account if the market moves against you.
- Target 1 (TP1): Your first profit target (calculates a 2:1 Reward-to-Risk ratio).
- Target 2 (TP2): Your second profit target for runners (calculates a 3:1 Reward-to-Risk ratio).
- Conviction Score %: A confidence rating (e.g. 88%) showing how strong the trade setup is.

CHAPTER 5: The Asset Decision Matrix

Not all trade opportunities are created equal. The Asset Decision Matrix dynamically evaluates and ranks every asset in real time so you instantly know which asset offers the best trading conditions right now.

FIGURE 5.1 – Asset Decision Matrix Priority Scoring Card

How the Decision Matrix Ranks Assets

It evaluates 6 core factors:

1. Conviction Rating: Higher confidence setups get top priority.
2. Historical Win Rate: How well this specific strategy performs on this asset.
3. Liquidity & Volume: Ensures high trading activity and low spreads.
4. Reward-to-Risk Ratio: Prioritizes setups with generous upside potential.
5. Killzone Timing: Gives extra weight during peak trading hours (London & New York sessions).
6. Price Proximity: Identifies trades currently near their entry zone.

CHAPTER 6: Position Sizing & Risk Management

Managing risk is the secret to long-term trading success. Clicking on any Trade Card opens the Interactive Risk Calculator.

1. Select Your Account Balance

Click $10,000, $50,000, $100,000, or enter your exact account size.

2. Choose Your Risk %

Select 1% or 2% max risk per trade.

Automatic Position Sizing

The calculator automatically tells you exactly how many Futures Contracts (e.g. 2 NQ Contracts or 20 MNQ Micro Contracts) or Forex Lot Sizes to trade. You never have to guess your position size!

CHAPTER 7: Active Runners Desk

When a trade setup moves in your favor, it transitions to the Active Runners Desk.

Simple 3-Step Runner Rules

- Step 1 (+1R Open Profit): Trade moves to the Runners Desk. Move your Stop Loss to Breakeven (BE) to guarantee a risk-free trade!
- Step 2 (+2R Target 1 Hit): Target 1 is achieved! Realized profit of 2R is logged.
- Step 3 (+3R Target 2 Hit): Final target achieved! 3R profit is logged into your total performance analytics.
